

ITU TELECOM WORLD 2006

We had an excellent response at the ITU exhibition. The show served as an introduction for our new distributors in China. We were able to meet a number of our existing customers and gain some new prospects for the future. There was a significant interest in our surface mount power over Ethernet module, which for it's size packs a powerful punch.

This was a great way to update ourselves on the Chinese market and sample the atmosphere of a extraordinary city.
